

INFO-LOOPING:

THE LATEST SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY & WHY IT CHANGES EVERYTHING IN YOUR LIFE

by GW Hardin

PART 1: KNOWLEDGE IS NOT POWER ... INFORMATION IS

A new scientific discovery points to more than the powers that govern our universe. It points to the very secrets of creation. Ever wonder why the tech giants — Facebook, Amazon, Netflix, Google/YouTube (FANG), Twitter, and Instagram — grew so big and so powerful so fast? It's because early on they all realized that the real source of power, the real source of wealth, the real source of global influence is information ... not money, not knowledge, not ambition. They understood early on that to be successful you have to gain control — of your company, of your market, and other people's lives. And the best way to do that is by controlling information.

The latest scientific discovery reveals that information not only rules this planet, it rules the universe ... seriously. But more than that, this breakthrough holds the secrets not only to how we gain control of our own lives but also how to govern reality itself. From this realization we then hold the ability, even the power, to decide what kind of world we choose to live in, what kind of relationships we choose to better ourselves, and how we get to pick what level of abundance shows up for us from the exuberance of infinite wealth inherent in life itself.

To help you understand the magnitude of this new discovery and how to apply it to your own personal life, the topic of Info-Looping will be covered in 3 separate parts. In Part 1 we will examine 5 sections:

1. Why a sea change has occurred with the latest discovery in physics
2. What the ramifications of personal and global control means with this discovery
3. Why the Armed Forces have invested heavily in data (information) gathering
4. How we better our personal lives by understanding the principle of "Inherent Thriving"
(more in Part 2)
5. CONCLUSION: Are we looking at a revolution or human extinction?

A SEA CHANGE HAS OCCURRED

For 100 years, science has been trying to link Einstein's Relativity with Quantum Mechanics with little success. Until now. What this means is that science is far more than we ever thought it was ... and so are we.

Raging debate has erupted since the publishing of the Hamein Unified Field Theory. But beyond the debates and accusations lies a consequence that scientists aren't discussing and even Hamein himself is not fully promoting — that the real gold in his discovery lies in the realization that God is not just Love ... God is information about the God-Self. Experience demands that I do not drown you in scientific detail or verbose philosophy about this. It is so new that evidence is rare. Nonetheless, it is not non-existent; for I have tested this Grand Consequence with Power of 8 groups that I work with. If what I am currently witnessing with Info-Looping is witnessed by others, then prepare for a sea change in what we've understood reality to be.

Haramain's theory postulates that the entirety of existence operates with wormholes whose sole purpose is to pass information constantly throughout the universe creating feedback loops. And at all levels. Which means to say that this wormhole phenomenon is fractal in nature. Which means it operates at the atomic level the same way it operates at the galactic level, where black holes pass massive amounts of information without our realizing it. What is at the center of resulting debates of Haramain's discovery stems from his disclosure that these wormhole feedback loops operate in a holographic system. Which means that because all protons and electrons are "hologrammic" (his colleague, Marshall Lefferts' word) in nature, seeing one allows you to see all. Yes, that means each of us has the potential to access all knowledge. You might understand why "modern" science can't grasp this. Frankly, Einstein had the same problem early on with the Theory of Relativity. Few understood him.

Imagine the consequences if you moved to a level of self-realization that gave you access to all information that ever existed. Imagine even further what this would do to power structures that rule this planet. Yep. Sea change.

THE RAMIFICATIONS OF PERSONAL AND GLOBAL CONTROL

Ironically, Haramain's discovery provides evidence to both warring sides regarding whether consciousness actually exists or not. Scientific singularitarians have long argued that consciousness does not exist, and consequently neither does free-will. The universe is quantum in nature, which means it is ruled by randomness, not free-will. Philosophers on the other hand have argued both sides of the fence. But on a personal level, the implications of constant passing of information at a holographic level, philosophically contributes to the notion that we and Source/God/Buddha/Allah/etc. are One. Where have we heard that before across the millennia? What happens on a personal level if we more than think this? What happens if we actually start putting this purposeful looping of information into practice? It means we not only control the information that determines the "reality" of our personal life (the Observer Effect), it also means that we should not have too much of problem determining reality at every fractal level. The key here is that if we truly understood the role that information looping plays in our personal lives, we would have full ability to use that information to better ourselves in ways we never dreamed possible.

Haramain has presented in one of his papers the premise that not only does free will exist, but consciousness as seen from an information-looping perspective resides in the universe itself. That ought to keep philosophers busy for the next thousand years. If the FANG institutions have been controlling information across the globe, then we have the ability to exceed their capabilities if and when we choose to work together with Info-Looping. Which means that, for all practical purposes, they are obsolete. Imagine.

THE ARMED FORCES & DATA MINING

This section is not meant to browbeat our Armed Forces, it's meant to show you that we can change how a few select humans are using Info-Looping to dominate our globe. Few people paid attention when the Armed Forces invested heavily in gathering information on anything they could get their hands on. The reason being that they discovered that mining information gave evidence of what would show up in our future. No joke. Eventually this would be called “data mining.” Not long after, the National Security Agency (NSA) turned data mining into a national pastime, keeping track of every human transaction on the planet. And why? To combat terrorists? Please. It not only allows them to control terrorists but to control the entire globe. Not only do they know what has happened, they now know what is going to happen. Scientific research has observed that consciousness does not actually operate in the present, it has and will always operate in the future ... and then turn back to create the present (retrocausality they call it). Kinda gives “Back to the Future” a whole new meaning. Turn this on its head and you get the power to determine what is going to show up in the present. If it weren’t for one small matter. Who or what co-creates all this information? Get enough people together and they have the ability, as co-creators, to do a quarterback sneak around NSA. Increasing evidence is emerging that a certain faction within alphabet agencies quietly had their giant paws in the founding of the FANG institutions. And why? To orchestrate how society will operate. Except for one small matter. Us.

THE PRINCIPLE OF “INHERENT THRIVING”

The real principle that Haremeim has uncovered with Info-Looping shakes the foundations of current science. Up until now most scientists believed that existence was pretty much governed by the Law of Entropy. Loosely stated, the Law of Entropy says that existence tends towards disorder, randomness, dissipation of energy, and homogeneity. In other words, everything dies. Many scientists believe this law to be the overriding rule of the universe. However, Haremeim has shown quite the opposite. His findings indicate that the universe is governed by life, not death. In mathematical circles, this is known as the Law of Syntropy, which roughly states that existence tends toward order, energy and matter concentration, and the increase in complexity and growth of structures. In other words, creation rules! It is not the exception as science has taught since my days of saving rain-soaked worms in my pocket (sorry, Mom).

In one of his published papers, Haremeim goes to great lengths to show that life could not have possibly arrived via randomness. What his Info-Looping shows is that the entire universe is in a conspiracy to constantly update information to foster the ever evolving forces of Life. In Marshall Lefferts’ book, Cosmometry, he coins a marvelous term for this massive information updating: “Inherent Thriving.” The term is ingenious in that it truly points at humanity’s ability not only to survive but to fantastically exceed mere surviving, to thrive beyond comprehension. We just have to change our way of thinking.

I will not even think of-toeing into the shark infested waters of debating whether current science is right or wrong on entropy. That would take us back to the great debates during the Middle Ages as to how many angels can dance on the head of pin. Who cares? Either inherent-thriving works or it doesn’t. And I’m here to tell you that the work I’ve done so far backs up the principle of inherent-thriving. I will go into this more in “Part 2: Prepare for a Revolution – ‘Inherent-Thriving’ Walks the Universe.”

CONCLUSION: REVOLUTION OR EXTINCTION?

In my final installment of Info-Looping, “Part 3: How Science Has Been Turned Upside Down & Humanity Right-Side Up – The Secrets of Info-Looping,” we will explore the choices we now have before us by engaging life in ways we’ve never dreamed. In Christian Scripture, Jesus states, “I intend that you should have life, and have it to the full.” Sounded nice in my seminary days. However, with Haremein's discovery, this nice little sentence has tremendous meaning. If we pay attention.

If we choose to ignore the fullness of Haremein's Unified Field Theory, we run the risk of continuing this Law-of-Entropy path that our world finds itself spinning toward — which is headed toward human extinction. Our world is dying when death should be the exception, especially since we have the power to fully embrace life.

I've made the purposeful decision not to write an exposé on how we've let ourselves be dominated by forces that treat us as if we are slaves, disempowering us to the degree that we believe ourselves to be pitifully limited. "Better to light a candle than to curse the darkness." Not only do we create the candle, the match, and the light, we have the ability to transpose that act beyond the confines of a room. We can carry that light to friends, nations, and even other worlds. But let us first learn to crawl before we fly. In Parts 2 & 3 we'll explore why we've forgotten how the consciousness of the universe inherently supports our capacity to thrive, how we can remember the secrets of Info-Looping, and how we must come together to transform all limitations, all evil, all suffering into the patterns that rise from harmony.

Haremein's discovery has freed us to go beyond our perceived limits. Just imagine.
